Description

- suitable for indoors and outdoors
- steel - grey powder-coated
- particularly suited for efuturo wallboxes
- simple installation since required drill holes already exist
- corrosion resistant

The elegant, simple column makes it possible to install two efuturo wallboxes. The column was specifically designed for the efuturo wallboxes. When delivered, it already has all the required drill holes to anchor the column to the floor and to attach the wallbox to the column. Thanks to the powder coating, the column is corrosion-resistant and can be installed both indoors and outdoors. Transform your personal parking space or the company car park for your employees and customers into your individual service station for electric and hybrid vehicles.
